PAYMENT OF TAXES TO REMOVE DEFICIT

Treasury, $161,464,774
Short on Quarter, Offers
New Obligations.

During July and August, the first two months of the present fiscal year, there was a net deficit of $161,464,774 in the current expenses of the government. This was made known by Secretary Mellon last night in a letter to banking institutions, offering $700,000,000 in Treasury obligations dated September 15 for subscription.

With the payment of income and profits taxes in September, however, Mr. Mellon said, "there should be, according to the best information now available, a small net current surplus for the quarter."

Coming Expenditures. The Treasury, he explained, has maturities of principal and interest amounting to $635,000,000 falling due September 15, and similarly $527,000,000 due October 15.

Against the payments, he said, the Treasury expects to receive during September about $625,000,000 from income and profits taxes, in addition to ordinary revenue from other sources. The Treasury was offering the new obligations, he continued, to provide for its further requirements, including current disbursements and in furtherance of its announced plan of dealing with the short-dated debt.

The new issues consist of three-year 5 1/2 per cent Treasury notes, six months 5 per cent Treasury certificates and one-year 5 1/2 Treasury certificates. This issue of Treasury notes is the second offering of these obligations which were adopted by Mr. Mellon as a means for distributing the short-dated debt over the period from 1923 to 1925.

Reduction in Rates. The interest rate on the notes and the one-year certificates is 1/4 per cent less than on the initial offering last June. The interest rate on the six months certificates is 1/2 per cent less than on the previous issue for a similar maturity.

The reductions in the interest rates on the government paper, Treasury officials said, indicate an easier money market.

Important progress has been made, Mr. Mellon said, in the distribution of the victory loan maturity, the amount of these notes outstanding being reduced from $4,022,116,555 on May 31 to $3,806,172,250 on August 31. The amount of victory notes originally issued was $4,455,374,300, he added, so that this represents a total reduction of about $649,000,000.

Pockets Short 59 CENTS
Americans Had Less Money in Circulation in August Than in July.

The pocketbook of the average American held 59 cents less in August than in July, according to the monthly circulation statement issued by the Treasury.

On August 1 the per capita circulation on an estimated population of 108,226,000 persons was $53, which on September 1 had dropped to $52.41 on the basis of an estimated population of 108,365,000 persons.
